Your very own concert hall for a day

Mogens Dahl Koncertsal is a story in its own right. An oasis in the heart of Copenhagen, it sits in an urban courtyard in the Islands Brygge neighbourhood. The three buildings and the cobble courtyard offer an intimate storybook setting for weddings. Whether you wish to have the ceremony in the courtyard, shielded from the hustle and bustle of the city; create a winter wonderland in this rough-hewn architectural setting; or perhaps arrive by sailing ship to an informal reception, the possibilities for an unforgettable wedding party are infinite.

A tranquil oasis in the heart of Copenhagen with a romantic courtyard.

More than a century of history

The building from 1901 originally served as a stable and gatehouse for book printer Hertz Bogtrykkeri. The horses were stabled in what is today the concert hall itself, while the wagons were parked in what is presently our foyer.

The buildings underwent many subsequent changes, including the addition of an annexed garage, which later housed a car paint workshop and an auto body workshop called Amar'kansk Auto. Today, the old garage is our Small Hall.

A haven of music

Music and art are the focal points of Mogens Dahl Koncertsal. The halls are the perfect choice for those seeking a wedding venue in Copenhagen offering optimal and outstanding acoustics that invite to conversation as well as entertainment.

As music specialists well connected with the most renowned musical artists in Denmark, we will gladly provide music for your wedding party.

Artistic and beautiful.

The work of one man

Mogens Dahl Koncertsal is also the story of one man's uncompromising ambition to create an alternative concert hall. In 2005, classical music conductor Mogens Dahl restored the building in collaboration with the architect studio Maali & Lalanda, which led the building back to its original appearance. Mogens Dahl's dream was to create a concert hall in an intimate setting that could bring the music closer to the audience.
